

This is a significant effort at realizing community - police partnership towards making the society better.

The unparalleled contribution of CCTV cameras in controlling crime is very well established. Understandably, one CCTV Camera does the work of 100 policemen, and reduces crime by 50 percent in a locality.

The inauguration of the CCTV cameras hub was done by Sri Anjani Kumar IPS, Commissioner of Police, Hyderabad. Addressing the astute gathering of community members, colony residents, police officers, Brihaspathi's staff and general public Sri Anjani Kumar IPS, Commissioner of Police shared his joy and happiness.

He said, "on this occasion, on behalf of the society, and elders, I thank all. In the beginning of the New Year, this is the first function of city police which is the community CCTV cameras inauguration."

He continued by saying, “almost every 10 - 15 days in every colony, every zone, and every division with community partnership and community leadership we have initiated this program. The role of the Hyderabad police is only to act as a facilitator. But the main work of concept, ownership and maintenance is the duty of the community.”

“After the formation of Telangana, in the Hyderabad city for the last 7- 8 years we received good name across the world. All foreign investment is flowing into Hyderabad because the city is providing best safety and security.

“I like to thank everyone, and, particularly I like to thank my department, Joint CP, Inspector Banjara Hills, and entire team of officers. This is good example of community - police partnership for making the society better and Hyderabad more successful and glorious.”
